Healthy Canned Wines, Cocktails, and Spiked Seltzers to Bring Everywhere This Summer

Cascadian Outfitters Canned Wines

Drinking a can of wine in your kitchen after a tough day is great and all, but Cascadian Outfitter's canned wines are inspired by outdoor adventures. The company offers a Chardonnay, rosé, and red blend, all made from fruit from the Columbia Valley in Washington. Cracking open a can will feel super appropriate on your next fishing trip, hike, or sail.
